REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art fails to disclose a satellite system comprising a host satellite orbiting in the first orbit and configured to be physically near the first backbone satellite, the host satellite transmitting information directly to the first backbone satellite via an omni-directional communication scheme and receiving information from the first backbone satellite via a proxy satellite through which the information is relayed. These limitations are neither taught nor obvious by the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Chandos et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6240074) disclose a secure communication hub and method of secure data communication wherein the secure communication hub relays local communications between low probability of intercept user radio equipment and provides a secure interface with a command center through a non-geostationary commercial satellite communication system.
